Course Description:

This course serves as an introduction to the Reformed tradition as embodied in the history, faith, institutions, and practices of the Presbyterian churches, with particular attention devoted to the Presbyterian Church (U.S.A.). The course surveys major figures and movements, recurring theological themes, and perennial and recent challenges to the life of the church. The course also provides for close and contextual readings of Reformed creeds and confessions.

The course assumes a basic knowledge of Christian theology and of church history as a prerequisite. The completion of Faith Seeking Understanding (FQI) and History of Christian Experience I & II, or equivalent previous course work in theology and history, is required to participate in this intermediate level of instruction and learning.

Objectives:

Students will explore both the diversity and the common witness of expressions of Reformed faith across time, examine the nature of a religious tradition and its ethos, and develop the analytical and interpretive skills necessary to participate faithfully in the ongoing witness of the church today.

Requirements:

1. Preparation and participation. Your preparation and thoughtful contribution to class discussion (especially on Wednesday discussion days) will represent about 10% of your final grade.

2. Short discussion papers: You are asked to write 5 one-page (600-700 words, single-spaced) papers out of 7 possible options, as indicated in the Calendar of Lectures and Discussion Topics for 2/13, 2/20, 3/5, 3/6 (3/13), 4/3, 4/9, and 4/17. They are to be submitted to the instructor's email inbox before class time on the day indicated in the syllabus. No late papers will be accepted. These papers will represent about 25% of your final grade.

3. Analysis of a point of Reformed doctrine in the Book of Confessions. You will each prepare a 10-12 page (Times New Roman 12-pt font, double-spaced) paper analyzing Reformed confessional positions as reflected in The Book of Confessions on the topic you are assigned (see A. and B. below). In addition you and your partner will be expected to facilitate a discussion on the date indicated in the syllabus for your topic. Discussion will be expected to center around a theology ordination exam question that you will devise which presents a scenario in ministry relating to the point of Reformed doctrine you have been assigned (see B. below). Please make copies of your ordination question for your classmates. In your class discussion time, please have the class divide into small groups to work on all or part of the question you devise. Then have the class come back together to discuss the question as a whole. You are encouraged to have your paper completed by the date on which your assigned topic is due to be discussed. Please include your answer to the ordination question in your paper. All papers will be due no later than May 14. Submit the paper (as a Word document) to the instructor's email inbox. This paper and your leadership in the assigned discussion period will represent about 35% of the final grade.

The chart on page 9 of this syllabus lists the most obvious locations for theological discussions of particular doctrines in The Book of Confessions. Please note that locations have not been provided for the Apostles' Creed, the Nicene Creed, or the Brief Statement of Faith since their brevity allows you to peruse them quickly for relevant comments on the doctrines listed.

The Book of Confessions is also available in searchable form on the computers in the Seminary's computer lab. If you are not presenting on a particular day, you are expected to perform a computer search of the BoC for the doctrinal topic(s) assigned for that day. This exercise will both enhance your own learning and support your classmates' efforts in leading discussion on those topics.

In your paper you should:

A. Discuss the unity and diversity of the Reformed witness.

i. Begin by identifying the general contours of "a Reformed position" on your topic. What is distinctive about the Reformed ways the confessions treat the topic? In the process of identifying what the confessions say about your topic, do not go through each confessional document outlining in detail what each says. Be restrained and judicious in your use of quotations and citations. Do cite passages that seem particularly important or illustrative of common or distinctive themes.

ii. Once you have attempted to find a common thread or witness in the confessions as a whole, pay attention to differences. Where do you find divergent emphases? Where do you see outright disagreement? Where do you note development in positions over time? As part of your analysis, it will be as important to attend to what is left out as it will be to note what is said. If your topic is not taken up in a confessional document, think about possible reasons for the omission.

B. Discuss practical applications of the point of doctrine.

Devise a theology ordination exam question centered around the doctrine you have been assigned. Look at some actual theology exams questions before you write your own. (The library has several CD's of the questions from previous ordination exams. This content is also available on the web at <http://www.lpts.edu/library/library-services/guides/standard-ordination-exams> under the category Theological Competence.) You will be devising a question for Section I of the exam, in which you are allowed to use an unmarked Book of Confessions. Outline a realistic scenario in the practice of ministry on which the confessional doctrinal positions you have discussed in part A of this assignment would have some significant bearing. The test of a "good" question is how well it facilitates your exploration of the practical dimensions of theological convictions. In your class presentation/discussion you should spend time working with the class toward a helpful analysis of and answer to this ordination exam question. If you are working with a partner for this assignment, you may devise one exam question together, and collaborate on the class presentation, but you should each hand in a paper. In your paper, sketch out an answer to the ordination exam question that you devise for class discussion.

4. Midterm

A midterm exam will be given on March 26. The midterm exam will count as about 30% of your final grade.

N.B. In order to pass the course, students must complete and submit all assigned work: discussion papers (at least 80% of those assigned), Confessions paper (including facilitating discussion), and midterm exam.

Required Texts:

James H. Smylie. A Brief History of the Presbyterians (Geneva Press). (Referred to in the syllabus as Smylie)

Christopher Elwood. Calvin for Armchair Theologians (W/JK). (Referred to in the syllabus as Elwood)
PC(USA). The Book of Confessions, Study Edition (W/JK). (Referred to in the syllabus as BoC)

Milton J Coalter, John M. Mulder, Louis B. Weeks, eds. The Re-Forming Tradition: Presbyterians and Mainstream Protestantism (W/JK). (Referred to in the syllabus as Re-Forming Tradition)

Other readings are on e-reserve at the CAMS site for this course (R). Note: For each assignment in the BoC, you are asked to read the introduction that accompanies each document in the Study Edition.

Policy on late work:

If the final paper is submitted late, when no extension has been granted, it will be penalized in the grading by one letter grade increment for every day (i.e., a B+ paper becomes a B if one day late, a B- if two days, a C+ if three days, etc.). A paper submitted more than ten days after the due date will not be accepted.

Note that the short discussion papers are not allowed to be turned in late.

Citation Policy:

Citations in your papers should follow the Seminary standard, which is based on these guides:

- Kate Turabian, A Manual for Writers of Term Papers, Theses, and Dissertations, 7th ed. Chicago: University of Chicago Press, 2007.
- The Chicago Manual of Style, 15th ed. Chicago, IL: University of Chicago Press, 2003.

Copies of these guides are available at the library and in the Academic Support Center.

Academic Honesty:

All work turned in to the instructor is expected to be the work of the student whose name appears on the assignment. Any borrowing of the ideas or the words of others must be acknowledged by quotation marks (where appropriate) and by citation of author and source. Students unfamiliar with issues relating to academic honesty can find help from the staff in the Academic Support Center and should make use of the available resources at an early date, since violations of seminary policy on academic honesty can lead to a failing grade for the course.

Accessibility and Accommodation:

Students requiring accommodation for a physical or learning disability should be in contact with the Director of the Academic Support Center (ASC; kmapes@lpts.edu) within the first few days of the course and should speak with the instructor as soon as possible to arrange appropriate adjustments. Students with environmental or other sensitivities that may affect their learning are also encouraged to speak with the instructor.

Use of Electronic Devices in Class:

Do not send or read text messages during class. Cell phones should be turned off. In the event that you have a legitimate need to be accessible during class, you may ask the instructor for an exception to this rule. Students with laptops should not access the Internet unless specifically for purposes directly relevant to the course. Any misuse of electronic devices during class time, including checking of email or social networking sites, will negatively affect the course grade.

Inclusive Language:

The use of inclusive language in course work is a policy of Louisville Presbyterian Seminary. Direct quotations from theological texts and translations of the Bible do not have to be altered to conform to this policy. In your own writing, however, avoid language for people that leaves out part of the population or perpetuates stereotypes. Do not assume masculine gender when the gender of the person is unknown. When referring to God, you are encouraged to use a variety of images and metaphors. See <http://www.lpts.edu/academics/academic-resources/academic-support-center/online-writing-lab/avoiding-gender-bias>.
