Assignments & Evaluation

One of the most important components of this course is your study time. Throughout the course we will introduce new concepts and review old ones in class. Language acquisition takes time because it is a skill learned by sheer memorization, practice, and review. It is also cumulative: if you have not learned Wednesday's lesson, Friday's lesson will hardly make sense. So it is essential to plan to study several hours outside of class every week. We will give you all the assistance we can, but it is important to keep in mind that the class and tutoring sessions will not help you without disciplined individual study habits!

1) Attendance and Class Participation (5% of final grade)

It is imperative that students attend class so as to receive necessary explanations and to review homework. While the textbook is a great resource, it does not provide a full, rich (social) context within which to learn. Class time also provides opportunities to ask questions and to learn from other students.

According to the Seminary catalog, students are expected to attend "all scheduled meetings of the courses" excepting illness or "other valid reasons." In case of illness or emergency, students are asked to notify me preferably prior to the session. Six or more absences (1/4 of the course) may result in a low or failing grade in the course. Tardiness also affects classroom dynamics; please make every effort to be ready to start class on time.

2) Homework (20% of final grade)

Students will not learn a new language by simply attending class. One needs to review and apply daily the new language information. Completing the assigned exercises (see CAMS for Homework assignments) allows one to revisit the grammatical concepts we discuss in class. Students are expected to complete assigned exercises on time and will be asked to turn in these exercises regularly. Homework is graded based on completion, not correctness.

3) Quizzes (30% of final grade)

Over the course of the semester, students will take 10 short quizzes (mostly on Wednesdays) at the beginning of class. These quizzes will test vocabulary, grammar, and translation abilities.

4) Take-Home Exams (25% of final grade)

At two points during the semester, students will complete an open-book, take-home exam. You will have an extended weekend to complete this exercise; however, you will NOT be allowed to work in groups or pairs. You may use notes and your textbook but not your friends or tutor.

5) Final Exam (20% of final grade)

At the end of the semester, students will take a cumulative, closed-book final exam. A review session will be scheduled in order to help students study for this exam.

Grading Scale:

99-100	A+	83-86	B	70-72	C-
95-98	A	80-82	B-	67-69	D+
90-94	A-	77-79	C+	60-66	D
87-89	B+	73-76	C	0-59	F

Course Policies

Use of Inclusive Language

In accordance with seminary policy, students are to use inclusive language in class discussions and in written and oral communication by using language representative of the whole human community in respect to gender, sexual orientation, ethnicity, age, and physical and intellectual capacities. Direct quotations from theological texts and translations of the Bible do not have to be altered to conform to this policy. For more information, see:

<http://www.lpts.edu/academics/academic-resources/academic-support-center/online-writing-lab/avoiding-gender-bias>

Academic Honesty

All work turned in to the instructors is expected to be the work of the student whose name appears on the assignment. Any borrowing of the ideas or the words of others must be acknowledged by quotation marks (where appropriate) and by citation of author and source. Use of another's language or ideas from online resources is included in this policy, and must be attributed to author and source of the work being cited. Failure to do so constitutes plagiarism, and may result in failure of the course. Two occurrences of plagiarism may result in dismissal from the Seminary. Students unfamiliar with issues related to academic honesty can find help from the staff in the Academic Support Center. For more information, see the Policy for Academic Honesty in the Student Handbook.

Special Accommodations

Students requiring accommodations for a documented physical or learning disability should be in contact with the Director of the Academic Support Center (kmapes@lpts.edu) during the first two weeks of a semester (or before the semester begins) and should speak with the instructor as soon as possible to arrange appropriate adjustments. Students with environmental or other sensitivities that may affect their learning are also encouraged to speak with the instructor.

Policy on late work:

All written assignments such as homework and take-home exams are due on the date given in the syllabus or stated in class. Assignments submitted late will be penalized in the grading by one letter grade increment for every day (a B+ assignment becomes a B if one day late, a B- if two days, a C+ if three days, etc.). Assignments submitted more than ten days after the due date will not be accepted.

Use of electronic devices in class: I ask that we create a time and space in the classroom to set aside such distractions as email, Facebook, and texting in order to engage our minds and hearts. Do not send or read text messages during class. In the event that you have a legitimate need to be accessible during class, you may ask me for an exception to this rule. Laptops should not be used in Hebrew class. Any misuse of electronic devices during class time will be grounds for dismissal from the session and will negatively affect the course grade.
