

SYLLABUS
Theologies of the Global South (TH 3663)
Amy Plantinga Pauw and Clifton Kirkpatrick
Fall, 2017
Schlegel Hall, Room 123, T/Th 3:00-4:20 pm

“Theologians from the new (or younger) churches have made their pilgrimages to the theological learning of the older churches. We had no alternative. We have eaten theology with you; we have drunk theology with you; we have dreamed theology with you. But it has all been one-sided; it has all been, in a sense, your theology. ...We know you theologically. The question is, do you know us theologically? Would you like to know us theologically?” --Kenyan theologian John Mbiti

Course Description:

Christianity is a global religion whose population, spiritual energy, and theological center are increasingly centered south of the equator and in other non-western regions. This course will examine recent theologies coming from Latin America, Asia, and Africa.

Objectives:

1. To become acquainted with and learn from recent theologies of the global south
2. To reflect on the practice of ministry in the North American context from the perspective of theologies of the global south.

This course seeks more generally to contribute to these Student Learning Outcomes:

Students will be able to think theologically and ethically in relation to particular traditions and contemporary needs. SLO 3

Students will be able to articulate their own theological perspective, mindful of the global, multicultural, multi-religious context of contemporary ministry. QEP-SLO 2

Students will demonstrate a capacity for ecumenical and interreligious relations. QEP-SLO 3

LPTS CLASSROOM POLICIES:

As with all LPTS classes, this course will honor these Seminary policies:

Course Policies:

Academic Honesty: All work turned in to the instructors is expected to be the work of the student whose name appears on the assignment. Any borrowing of the ideas or the words of others must be acknowledged by quotation marks (where appropriate) and by citation of author and source. Use of another’s language or ideas from online resources is included in this policy, and must be attributed to author and source of the work being cited. Failure to do so constitutes plagiarism, and may result in failure of the course. Two occurrences of plagiarism may result in dismissal from the Seminary. Students unfamiliar with issues related to academic honesty can find help from the staff in the Academic Support Center. For more information, see the Policy for Academic Honesty in the Student Handbook.

Citation Policy: Citations in your paper should follow Seminary standards, which are based on these guides:

American Psychological Association. Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association. 6th ed. Washington, DC: American Psychological Association, 2010.

Turabian, Kate L., Wayne C. Booth, Gregory G. Colomb, and Joseph M. Williams. A Manual for Writers of Research Papers, Theses, and Dissertations: Chicago Style for Students and Researchers. 8th ed. Chicago: University of Chicago Press, 2013.

The Chicago Manual of Style. 16th ed. Chicago: University of Chicago Press, 2010.

Copies of these guides are available at the library and in the Academic Support Center.

Accessibility and Accommodation: Students requiring accommodations for a documented physical or learning disability should be in contact with the Director of the Academic Support Center during the first two weeks of a semester (or before the semester begins) and should speak with the instructor as soon as possible to arrange appropriate adjustments. Students with environmental or other sensitivities that may affect their learning are also encouraged to speak with the instructor.

Inclusive Language: In accordance with seminary policy, students are to use inclusive language in class discussions and in written and oral communication by using language representative of the whole human community in respect to gender, sexual orientation, ethnicity, age, and physical and intellectual capacities. Direct quotations from theological texts and translations of the Bible do not have to be altered to conform to this policy. In your own writing, however, when referring to God, you are encouraged to use a variety of images and metaphors, reflecting the richness of the Bible's images for God. More discussion about inclusive language can be accessed from the Academic Support Center and from the section of the LPTS web site with information for current students.

Policy on late work: All written assignments are due on the date given in the syllabus. Late 50-word sentences will not be accepted. Course papers submitted late will be penalized in the grading by one letter grade increment for every day (a B+ paper becomes a B if one day late, a B- if two days, a C+ if three days, etc.). Assignments submitted more than ten days after the due date will not be accepted.

Use of electronic devices in class: We ask that you create a time and space in the classroom to set aside such distractions as email, Facebook, and texting in order to engage our minds and hearts. Do not send or read text messages during class. In the event that you have a legitimate need to be accessible during class, you may ask us for an exception to this rule. Laptops should not be used if you cannot trust yourself to restrict your use to note-taking. You may not access the Internet during class time. Any misuse of electronic devices during class time, including checking of email or social networking sites, will be grounds for dismissal from the session and will negatively affect the course grade.

Attendance Policy

According to the Seminary catalog, students are expected to attend class meetings regularly. In case of illness or emergency, students are asked to notify the instructor of their planned absence from class, either prior to the session or within 24 hours of the class session. Six or more absences (1/4 of the course) may result in a low or failing grade in the course.

Course Requirements for 3 credits:

Note: You may take this course for 2 credits and still fulfill an Area B elective requirement. Please see the instructors if you are interested in this 2-credit option.

1. Conscientious attendance, preparation, and participation in discussion (33%)

Showing up with your reading done is an important component of your work in this course. Lack of attendance and of thorough and timely class preparation will adversely affect your course grade. Please inform us ahead of time if you have to miss class. Missing more than 4 sessions of class puts you in danger of failing the course.

Each student will prepare a brief opening class devotional, sharing with us the life and ministry of the church in that region. You may wish to draw on the resources of the Ecumenical Prayer Cycle (on overnight reserve; relevant pages are in the syllabus): Hugh McCullum and Terry MacArthur, eds., In God's Hands: Common Prayer for the World (Geneva: WCC Publications, 2006); the web address is <https://www.oikoumene.org/en/resources/prayer-cycle>. Also on reserve: The Atlas of Global Christianity; Desmond Tutu, An African Prayer Book (New York: Doubleday, 1995); Margaret White and Robert Quigley, How the Other Third Lives: Stories, poems, songs, prayers, and essays from Asia, Africa, and Latin America (Maryknoll: Orbis, 1977); and Daniel Carro, Contemporary Gospel Accents: Doing Theology in Africa, Asia, Southeast Asia, and Latin America (Macon, GA: Mercer, 1997).

2. 50-word sentences (33%)

Students will record their response to the reflection question posed in the syllabus for each class's reading; these will take the form of one 50-word sentence. We will often start class by reading some of these aloud. You will e-mail these short assignments to both of us (amypauw@lpts.edu and ckirkpatrick@lpts.edu) by 9:00 pm on the day before the class for which they are assigned, and we will turn them back to you the following Tuesday. You are required to do your choice of 12 sentences. Late sentences will not be accepted.

3. Presentation on a theologian from the global south (33%)

Students will each write a 7-8pp. paper on a theologian from the global south, due Tuesday, Nov. 21. These papers should be e-mailed to amypauw@lpts.edu and ckirkpatrick@lpts.edu. Based on their choice of theologian, they will form three groups, representing Latin America, Asia, and Africa, and create a class presentation on the theology of that region during the last two weeks of the semester. We have provided a list of theologians to get you started, but you are welcome to consult with us about a theologian not on the list. For a list of theologians and their works, see "2017 Bibliography" on CAMS.
